

The Seven of Spades Person

The Card of Fate

This card is regarded as one of the most spiritual in the deck and these people can have great success in their life as long as they do not disregard the wisdom that is intended to guide them through life. These people are here to learn to TRUST and keep their FAITH in spite of circumstances. Their main challenges will come in the areas of work and health. The underlying King of Diamonds mandates that they must live the higher values they know if they are to have the blessings and power that is inherently available to them. That same King of Diamonds gives them a lot of inner strength and the tendency to push things at times. It is the only one-eyed King in the deck. For that reason the Seven of Spades must watch out for a tendency to be one-sided and subjective in their communications with others. Being the Seven of Spades puts them on the line. They must think, speak and act from a higher perspective or suffer innumerable ills, often physically oriented. Most of their problems translate as ailments, accidents or other physical afflictions.

Their Life Path is one of the better in the deck. They have many talents they can utilize for success and satisfaction in their lives and many become prominent and successful. Even their Saturn card, the Four of Diamonds is a symbol of protection and security. Nothing can truly hurt them but their own fears or doubts.

They are protected by a high, spiritual force but this must be actualized by aligning their actions with their highest truth and motives. Once they do, their lives assume a magical quality. Many take on a special mission to help the world and are unlimited in the good they can do. Those who are stuck on self-centered thoughts and motives are destined to suffer to some extent. They must live what they know and follow their intuitive guidance. Many marry into money or receive support from romantic associations. They can always do well if they work hard and maintain honesty. Nothing can stop them but themselves.

Some of the Seven of Spades Issues Concerning Relationships

These people have some of the better marriage karma of the cards in the deck, and the benefits of marriage can extend into both the financial and spiritual realms. They are attracted to those of financial means and mental power and must watch a tendency to give too much importance to the financial aspects, in which case their lack of higher values will bring them more problems than good.

In spite of their good marriage karma, they still cannot escape from the challenges of their birth card, which impinge on all areas of their life including love. They may be overcome by fear even when they have all the things they wanted. They must learn non-attachment.
