

The Ten of Spades Person

The Workaholic Card

Ten of Spades people can be very materialistic and workaholic types and when they are, their home life always suffers, and they suffer with it. Home and family are very important to them as well. It all depends upon the individual as to what their main focus in life is, but many of them seem to have a conflict between these two basic desires. The women, especially, have trouble having a satisfying family life while pursuing a career at the same. There are many spiritual influences present in their life path that can make these people the masters of their destiny and lead them to great heights in helping others. However, there is also the pull towards material accomplishment that can blind them to their possibilities and limit their growth potential. As Spades they have the opportunity to transcend the material through spiritual awareness.

There can be indecision about love and problems in marriage revolving around a fear of poverty. If they misuse the power given to them they can cause many difficulties in their personal lives. And yet, these people are capable of great, unattached spiritual love and can have everything they want if they look to their higher sides for direction and guidance.

Having both Karma Cards that reside in the Neptune line of the Life Spread can create a tendency towards addictive behavior. Combine that with their drive and the tendency to do everything 'all the way' and you find a personality that often goes to extremes, in both good things and bad. They learn through experience and experience life in its fullest. The ups and downs can be dramatic in some cases.

The Ten of Spades will meet with endings in this life designed to teach them the value of letting go of personal attachments to ideas and lifestyles. Meeting this challenge, they can live to experience the heights of spiritual awareness and understanding which is a part of their destiny.

Some of the Ten of Spades Issues Concerning Relationships

Those of this card often have an inner conflict between their work and their families, to which they are both strongly devoted. Highly ambitious and creative, they can become indecisive in the love arena which can lead to problems. They are often unsure of what they truly want in love matters, or they continually attract romantic partners that cannot make the commitment. In either case the outcome is the same - changes and fluctuations in the romantic life. Financial issues are usually connected to separations and they don't usually get the good end of the bargain.

Their basic love karma is good and there is no reason they cannot have a good marriage. They are very giving and loving and only need to find a way to balance out their desire for a family life with their naturally intense, ambitious nature.